First Call Maintenance - SMS Terms and Conditions

Last updated: August 30, 2026

By texting our maintenance request number, you agree to receive text messages from First Call Maintenance ("FCM") related to your maintenance request, including confirmation, scheduling, and status update messages.

Program description

This texting service allows tenants to submit maintenance requests and receive automated and staff-sent updates about those requests, as an alternative to submitting requests through the online tenant portal.

Message frequency

Message frequency varies based on your maintenance request activity. You will typically receive one message confirming receipt of your request, and additional messages as the request is scheduled and completed.

Message and data rates

Message and data rates may apply, depending on your mobile carrier and plan.

Opt-in and opt-out

You may opt in by texting this number to submit a maintenance request, by agreeing to use this number at lease signing, or verbally as described to you by property staff. You may opt out at any time by replying STOP. Reply HELP for assistance or to be connected with First Call Maintenance directly.

No liability for message delay or delivery failure

First Call Maintenance is not liable for delayed or undelivered messages. For urgent or emergency maintenance issues, tenants should also contact First Call Maintenance directly by phone.

Privacy

See our Privacy Policy for information on how your data is collected and used.

Changes to these terms

First Call Maintenance may update these terms from time to time. Continued use of the texting service constitutes acceptance of any changes.